January, 1980

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average – by number of job openings available – of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupations listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

DOT JOB TITLE: AERONAUTICAL DESIGN ENGINEER

EMPLOYER JOB TITLES: Dynamics Loads Engineer, Aircraft Interior Engineer, Aircraft Structure Engineer, Aircraft Payloads Engineer, Aircraft Electrical Engineer, CAD/CAM APT Designer

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult you local Job Service office public library or school placement center.

February, 1980

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average—by number of job openings available—of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupation listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?" "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

February, 1980

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average — by number of job openings available — of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupations listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.

2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.

3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.

   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.

   b. Be prepared to furnish references.

4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?", and "Why did you leave your last job?"

5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.

6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.

7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.

8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult your local Job Service office, public library or school placement center.

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average—by number of job openings available—of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupation listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as low as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average – by number of job openings available – of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupations listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult you local Job Service office public library or school placement center.

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average—by number of job openings available—of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupation listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average – by number of job openings available – of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupations listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared tc furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult you local Job Service office public library or school placement center.

August, 1980

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average—by number of job openings available—of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupation listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings, while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?", and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity—as well as enthusiasm—are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

August, 1980

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

September, 1980
Vol. 4 No. 9

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

2. Pay Range. A weighted average – by number of job openings available – of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupations listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings; while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

September, 1980

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.

2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.

3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.

   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.

   b. Be prepared to furnish references.

4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"

5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.

6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.

7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity-- as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.

8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult you local Job Service office public library or school placement center.

October, 1980
Vol. 4 No. 10

This monthly bulletin highlights occupations with large numbers of job openings available throughout the United States. It is based on job orders placed by employers at public employment service Job Banks during the previous month.

Information published in Occupations in Demand generally provides a good indication of what occupations are in greatest demand in the national Job Bank network. Your nearest Job Service Office is able to assist you in determining the availability of openings included in this publication.

There is no guarantee that a suitable job is currently open in each occupation and location listed. Also, competition for some jobs may be keen, while others remain open because of low wages or undersirable working conditions.

Starred (★) job titles indicate occupations where one-third or more of total openings are federally funded public service employment (PSE) jobs. PSE jobs are usually of limited duration and most have special eligibility requirements. These and other federally funded openings are excluded when "areas with significant numbers of openings" are selected.

See page 2 for definitions of key terms and how the occupations are selected for publication here. Page 16 lists State abbreviations and State employment security agency Job Service addresses.

Key Terms and Selection Criteria

1. Area Names. Locations identified are those with a relatively large concentration of job openings in the occupation listed. Most area names—Job Bank Districts—are established labor market areas. Reading from left to right, area names are listed in alphabetical order by State abbreviation.

2. Pay Range. A weighted average—by number of job openings available—of the pay offered by employers for the occupations listed. The low range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the lowest pay rates; the high range reported represents the average pay for those openings that account for 20 percent of the total openings available with the highest pay rates.

3. Job Bank. A daily computerized listing of job openings listed at public employment service offices in various locations. Job Bank data are organized in terms of State and local areas. Information in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin is based on a summary of openings data for the preceding month.

4. Job Openings. A vacant or open position which has been listed by an employer for filling with a public Job Service office.

5. Job Service. A relatively new term used to describe the State Employment Services affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor. These agencies are responsible for providing public employment services through a network of 2400 component local offices located throughout the country.

6. Job Titles. Occupational designations used are based upon the coding system provided by the fourth edition of the U.S. Employment Services's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Each entry in the "Occupations in Demand" bulletin corresponds to a unique title and code in the fourth edition DOT.

7. Openings Available For Month. The nationwide total of new full-time permanent openings (openings for jobs expected to last 150 days or more) received by Employment Service Job Banks during the month in the occupation listed, plus those carried-over from the previous month.

8. Openings Still Available at End of Month. The nationwide total of openings still available on the last day of the month. This figure is obtained by subtracting placements and cancellations during the month from the number of openings available.

9. Selection Criteria. Occupations included in this bulletin generally are those that were frequently listed at one or more Job Bank district during the previous month. To be considered "frequently listed" in a local area, an occupation must have had a disproportionately large number of openings relative to the total number of openings available at the local Job Bank. For example, a frequently listed occupation in a Job Bank district with 7,000 total openings per month must have had at least 50 openings, while occupations listed for an area with 1,000 total openings could have had as few as 20.

NOTE: Beginning with the November, 1978 edition (Vol. 2, No. 11), the OID bulletin will exclude data on (1) all job orders over 120 days old and (2) those job orders identified as part of the Mandatory Listing Program (Executive Order 11598) which are over 60 days old and against which no referral activity has been conducted.

Job Search Tips for Your Job Interview

1. Know the type of work you're after and the education, experience, skills, and talents you have that relate to that job.
2. Develop a work history, including your education and job-related personal information. Know your strengths and weaknesses.
3. Learn all you can about the employers products or services. Know why you want to work for the organization and what you might contribute.
   a. Learn the usual salary for the job you're after, but let the employer make an offer before discussing pay.
   b. Be prepared to furnish references.
4. Prepare for questions the employer is likely to ask, such as "Would you tell me a little about yourself?", "Why do you want to work for us?"; and "Why did you leave your last job?"
5. Be on time. Dress neatly. Be natural.
6. Expect to be a little nervous. But remember, if you weren't being considered for the job, the employer probably would not have asked for the interview.
7. Although you are there to sell your strong points, remember that honesty and sincerity--as well as enthusiasm--are the keys to a successful interview.
8. After the interview, review your answers and behavior. Note any changes you may want to make in future interviews. Write a thanks-for-the-interview letter. And follow-up to learn of the employer's decision.

For more information on effective job search techniques, consult you local Job Service office public library or school placement center.

October, 1980
Special Supplement No. 20

This insert to the Occupations in Demand bulletin is designed to announce the availability of selected job openings in the aerospace and related industries. It is the first attempt to publish detailed job order data and make it available to the general public as a job search tool.

The jobs highlighted in this section refer to those identified by the aerospace industry as being in need of qualified applicants nationwide. The most critical need for workers, especially engineers, can be found in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California areas.

The code number and job title by which these jobs are presented corresponds to the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT). Additional employer job titles, where available, are offered as supplementary information to aid in the job search process. The job definitions are contractions of those found in the fourth edition of DOT, and are designed to highlight the principal duties of each job listed in this section. The State and Job Bank District designations are the same as found in all Job Bank Openings Summary data. The order-holding office number and local office telephone number are provided to enable prospective applicants to obtain more detailed, up-to-date information from nearby local offices on those job orders listed. Please refer to DOT code, job title, and job order number when inquiring about job availability. It should be noted that local Job Service offices are authorized to accept collect telephone calls only from other Job Service offices, and only with regard to this recruitment effort.
